1. [REDACTED] has probably mentioned that we would forward a copy of our field collection requirements to you when those requirements are directed to [REDACTED]. The formal requirement has been transmitted through G-2. Dick felt that your possession of a copy would not only give the [REDACTED] people a jump on trying to fulfill the requirements but would also insure that the requirement got to the right people.

2. It is for this purpose that the attached is forwarded to you.
